

Parents of Children Who Stutter — We Want to Hear from You

Do you have a child who stutters between the ages of 5–12? You're invited to participate in a research interview exploring parent perspectives of agency in children who stutter.

About the Study

- Qualitative research study
- One-on-one interview with a parent/caregiver
- Focuses on how children who stutter express independence, choice, and self-advocacy
- Your experiences and insights matter

Who Can Participate?

- Parent or primary caregiver of a child who stutters
- Child is between 5–12 years old
- English-speaking

What's Involved?

- A single interview (approximately 60 minutes)
- Conducted in person, online via Zoom or by phone

Interested or Have Questions?

Email: stephanielebsack@isu.edu

This study has been approved by the Idaho State University Institutional Review Board

IRB-FY2026-204